your personal assistant at work.*

Good posture means that the key parts of a person's body are correctly aligned and supported by the right amount of muscle tension. While working this is not always easy to remember and to maintain.

EPOS is your personal assistant that helps not only to adopt the correct sitting position, but also to maintain it all day long. How? EPOS tilts your pelvis and spine upward preventing from any abnormal position while providing at the same time a sense of comfort at your back and legs.
